MEMORANDUM

TO: Carole Dortch, Assistant General Manager, Administration
Department of Aviation

FROM: Felicia Strong-Whitaker FW

RE: Sole Source Designation

I am in receipt of your request for sole source designation to Logistic Systems, Inc., for the upgrade of the Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD) System at Hartsfield Atlanta International Airport. The existing system was implemented by the original equipment manufacturer on or before 1996. The purpose of this system is to track all 911 calls and Police, Fire and other airport emergency personnel are dispatched through this system. The system is currently experiencing numerous operational failures.

After conducting a good faith review of the available resources, I have determined that your request meets the provisions of §2-1191, Sole Source Procurement, and that the original equipment manufacturer Logistic Systems, Inc., possesses the experience, knowledge and history necessary to provide the upgrades to the Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD) System.

The Bureau of Purchasing and Real Estate will prepare the appropriate legislation.

If you have any questions please give me a call at (404) 330-6988.

Department of Aviation

SUBJECT: Requisition X2401945 – Police Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD)
Center System Upgrade

Carole A. Dortch

The Police Division of the Atlanta Department of Aviation is seeking to upgrade the Computer Aided Dispatch (CAD) System at the airport. All 911 calls at the airport are captured and tracked by this system. Police, Fire and other airport emergency personnel are dispatched via this system. The airport runs the risk of not being able to respond to emergencies if this system is not operational.

The existing system was implemented on or before 1996. Hardware and software failures are happening with increased frequency; some on a daily basis. If the system were to fail soon, we would have no recourse but to go back to a manual system.

The version of the operating system we use, is no longer supported by IBM, and the software we are using from Logistic Systems, Inc., the implementers of the CAD System, is ten (10) software revisions behind what most of their other customers are using. The IBM Risc6000 machines we are using in the CAD center is no longer manufactured by IBM, so some parts will be hard or impossible to find.

The new system requested will have some of the features that the airport needs and are not found in the old software. This includes customizable reports and GIS mapping. DOA is in the process of redesigning the Security Access Control System at the airport and will be adding new alarms and new interfaces, such as fire alarms, handheld and laptop devices and wireless communication. These new devices will not interface with the present system.

In accordance with the attached letter from Logistic System, Inc., stating that they are the only firm or institution that can provide implementation services, upgrades, training, support and licensing and maintenance for LogiSYS collection of software, we are requesting that subject requisition be processed as a 'sole source' to this company.

If additional information is required to process this request, please contact our Contract Services Division at 404-209-3170, ext. 131.

Dear Bill,

This letter should serve as confirmation that Logistic Systems, Inc., (a.k.a. LogiSYS) a Montana corporation, is the sole developer and license provider for the LogiSYS collection of copyrighted software products, which includes but is not limited to: FirstCall Computer-Aided Dispatch Software and related interfaces.

As such, Logistic Systems, Inc is the only firm or institution that can provide implementation services, upgrades, training, support and licensing and maintenance for the LogiSYS collection of software. LogiSYS is also an authorized reseller of several lines of hardware components compatible with its software product line.

If you have any questions about this matter or need further information, please don't hesitate to contact me at (406)728-0921 extension 2148.

Sincerely,

Charles J. Stortz
Vice President of Sales and Marketing
Logistic Systems, Inc.
